

Q1FY24 Review

18 August 2023

EMS, wires and cables segments shine

- Q1 a middling quarter for the consumer durables sector, barring cables, wires and EMS players
- Input cost eased but higher A&P spends prevented gross margin expansion from percolating to EBITDA margins
- Upcoming festive season could lend a fillip to demand; HAVL and SYRMA are our preferred names

Vinod Chari | Swati Jhunjhunwala research@bobcaps.in

C&W, EMS businesses shine: Though our consumer durables coverage grew 16.5% YoY on average in Q1FY24, a bulk of the upside came from players in the cables & wires (C&W: +27% YoY) and electronics manufacturing services (EMS: +21% YoY) businesses. If we were to exclude AMBER which declined 7%, our EMS coverage grew 34% YoY on average.

Lower raw material costs negated by A&P spends: Players did not take major price hikes during Q1. Also, though raw material costs moderated, A&P spends normalised at higher levels. Thus, aggregate gross margin expansion of ~100bps YoY was offset by higher other expenses and A&P spends, translating to EBITDA margin expansion of just ~40bps.

Headwinds across product lines: Sales of summer products such as air conditioners were dampened by unseasonal rain even as competition remained intense. In fans, the energy rating change implemented last quarter led to higher channel inventory that dampened sale volumes while price discounts weighed on margins. Lighting products saw volume growth but significant price erosion to the tune of 20% mainly due to pass-along of lower raw material cost. Kitchen appliances exhibited slow demand trends and sedate margins for players such as CROMPTON.

EMS and C&W bright spots: In addition to healthy order books, our EMS coverage added new clients and incurred capex to cater to future demand, reflecting demand traction. C&W players showed continued resilience.

Upcoming festive season could trigger demand: Players engaged in the C&W and EMS industries maintained an upbeat growth outlook, whereas other consumer durable players are now pinning their hopes of demand recovery on the upcoming festive season in October-November.

Top picks: Our preferred names are HAVL (BUY, TP Rs 1,600) for overall demand recovery and SYRMA (BUY, TP Rs 600) in the EMS subsegment.
