Niche player with differentiated ODM capabilities: Syrma is a leading electronics engineering and design manufacturer that has carved a niche for itself via its flexi-mix-low-volume approach, diverse industry offerings and focus on high-margin products. Unlike listed peers Dixon Tech and Amber Enterprises, Syrma generates significant revenue (27% of total in FY22) and industry-leading margins by adding value as an original design manufacturer (ODM). In addition, the company offers products across industrial, auto, consumer electronic and medical applications, whereas Dixon (majorly mobiles and electronics) and Amber (air conditioners) are limited to select verticals.

ODM capacities drive best-in-class margins: Syrma's end-to-end capabilities in electronics product value chain (ODM plus bulk manufacturing) & thrust on diverse end-user verticals that require small-batch, custom orders enable it to operate at industry-leading EBITDA margins of 10-11% vs. 4-7% for peers (ex-Kaynes). ODM is a fourth of revenue with marginal attendant R&D cost. The strategic selection of high-value, ODM-led products to aid EBITDA margin outperformance.

Timely capacity expansion amid strong demand climate: India is experiencing a demand boom for consumer devices and appliances, which is expected to spur a robust 5Y CAGR of 41% in the domestic electronic manufacturing services (EMS) industry to FY26, with ODM growing faster at 43% (Source: Company RHP). Syrma is raising capacity (greenfield & brownfield) and expects to double its assembly lines to 30, a bulk of which is targeted by FY24. Management estimates ~Rs 20bn in added revenue at peak capacity. Asset turnover at 3.3x is targeted to reach 6-7x in the long run.

Initiate with BUY: India is striving to become self-reliant in electronics manufacturing, and salutary government policies are facilitating investments in the sector, promoting import substitution. We foresee ample opportunities for Syrma & expect company's niche business model combined with its export focus (44% of FY22 sales) to aid a buoyant revenue/EBITDA/PAT CAGR of 42%/45%/44% over FY22-FY25, with operating margin holding above 10%. The stock is trading at 30x FY24E EPS. We initiate coverage with BUY for a TP of Rs 390, based on 35x Sep'24E P/E – conservatively at a 15% discount to the industry multiple, comprising Dixon and Amber.
