May CPI to show the fuel price hike impact

BOB ECONOMICS RESEARCH | INDIA'S BOP IN FY26

India's CAD comfortable; risks remain

SUMMARYINDIA ECONOMICS: PRICE PICTURE

BoB Essential Commodities Index (BoB ECI) has risen at its sharpest pace since Mar'25 by 1.7% in May'26, on YoY basis. In Jun'26, the build-up is even higher (first 8-days) at 2%. Thus, inflation faces both food and fuel pressure. The May'26 fuel price hike in phases, itself translates to straight 14bps jump in CPI considering the weights of petrol and diesel component in the new basket (Assuming the average of petrol and diesel prices for all the cities and averaging the prices of Apr'26 and May'26).

INDIA ECONOMICS: INDIA'S BOP IN FY26

India's balance of payments situation remained comfortable in FY26. While external headwinds impacted growth in merchandise exports, import growth was resilient. Oil imports were lower largely due to lower prices, on the other hand, gold imports surged due to elevated prices. Services and remittances receipts offered support, thus keeping CAD largely in check. Capital account surplus moderated in the year, led by FPI outflows, even as FDI inflows recovered.

International food and metal prices are also elevated partly bearing the spillover effect of higher energy cost. However, for India, till now, the supply side story is in favour. Most of the arrival statistics of vegetables (Tomato, Onion and Potato) have improved in May'26. Heatwave guidance by IMD is also less intense compared to what was seen in the past two weeks. The overall reservoir storage position as on 4 Jun 2026 is also better than the Normal storage for the corresponding period.

India's CAD comfortable; risks remain

India's balance of payments situation remained comfortable in FY26. While external headwinds impacted growth in merchandise exports, import growth was resilient. Oil imports were lower largely due to lower prices, on the other hand, gold imports surged due to elevated prices. Services and remittances receipts offered support, thus keeping CAD largely in check. Capital account surplus moderated in the year, led by FPI outflows, even as FDI inflows recovered.

Going ahead, pressure on CAD is likely due to higher oil prices, lower merchandise exports, and moderation in remittances. Services exports are expected to be steady. Our estimate for CAD stands at 1.8-2.2% of GDP in FY27. More importantly, recent measures by the RBI would lead to greater inflows, which would offset the shortfall in the current account. Thus, we can expect India's overall BoP to record a positive balance in FY27. This should offer some support to INR.

India's BoP in Q4 FY26

India's current account recorded a surplus of US$ 7bn (0.7% of GDP) in Q4 FY26. This was lower than a surplus of US$ 13.7bn (1.4% of GDP) in the same period last year.

The lower surplus was on account of higher merchandise trade deficit. Goods trade deficit expanded to US$ 83.4bn in Q4 FY26 versus US$ 59.3bn in Q4 FY 25. This reflects a marginal decline in exports (-2.8% YoY) and a sharp acceleration in imports (up by 11.8% YoY). Within imports, while oil imports declined, non-oil imports increased. Incidentally, gold imports jumped by over 137% in Q4 FY26. This can be attributed to an increase in gold prices which noted an increase of over 70% in Q4 FY26 on a YoY basis.

Other components of current account offered support. India's net services receipts increased to US$ 60.4bn in Q4 this year, compared with US$ 53.3bn in the same period last year. Within services, while software net services receipts continued to grow at a steady pace, traction was also noted in travel and insurance services.
