Commentary

- Nifty extended its winning streak, rallying 180 points on Wednesday to close near 25900, while Bank Nifty posted a modest gain of 136 points after facing resistance at the 58500 level.
- IT stocks continued to lead the momentum, supported by buying interest in Auto, Consumer Durables, and Pharma sectors. A sharp fall in crude oil prices on Wednesday, could support sentiment for oil-dependent sectors like paints, tyres and logistics, while the surge in silver may lift interest in metal and commodity-linked stocks.
- However, with four straight sessions of gains, the market now appears slightly overstretched on the upside. A phase of profit booking or a mild pullback on Thursday cannot be ruled out. Nifty may correct up to 25715, while Bank Nifty could retest the support zone of 57950-58000 in the near term.
